Principle Investigators

James Endersby, Professor, University of Missouri, APSA #8050

John P. Messmer, Professor, St. Louis Community College, Meramec, APSA #37356

Nicole R. Foster Shoaf, Associate Professor, Missouri Southern University, APSA # 1566381

This project proposes coordinating efforts among political science instructors and programs at the University of Missouri—Columbia (MU) and other public universities within the state of Missouri. The principal investigators will recruit representatives from other colleges and universities throughout the state for joint meetings on teaching, primarily for introductory political science courses taken within a student's first two years. Special efforts will be made to attract schools with a substantial number of students who come from first generation, disadvantaged, and under-represented minorities. Following the meeting, in the summer and fall, these resources and description of strategies will be distributed (to attendees and their colleagues), maintained, and updated.
